

Team Collaboration

Merging home and office communications

Speakerbus are recognised as the pioneer of Intercom and Hoot 'n' Holler services by the world's leading investment banks.

We offer a range of iSeries solutions to specifically address trader voice collaboration needs seamlessly between offices, or at home using secure lightweight home broadband. Users in financial organisations rely on these solutions to disseminate information, maintain team collaboration and connect thousands of colleagues across global subsidiaries.

- Making Every Connection Worth More

Essential Benefits

- Team Collaboration - Easily connect home and office using hard or soft endpoints.
- Enhanced Efficiency - Achieve efficient workflow between different departments.
- Share Real-Time News - Host morning meetings or adhoc group calls and instantly share intelligence, alerts or request assistance from colleagues in different locations.
- Compliance Ready - Centralised management ensures adherence to company policy, voice recording and governance via user permissions, partitioning and auditing.
- Uniform Access - Use the same lines, speed keys and contacts from any location.
- Simplified IT Management - Manage all endpoints wherever located via a web-based global centralised management portal.
- Cost Management - Overlay your existing trading environment with flexible CAPEX or OPEX commercial models and the ability to further 'right-size' operations as market conditions change and evolve.
